

LUNG STEM CELLS AND LUNG REGENERATION

Abstract

- 5 A method of stimulating the growth of lung alveolar surface in a lung comprises providing progenitor or stem cells capable of regenerating lung alveolar surface, and then administering the progenitor or stem cells to the lung in an amount sufficient to stimulate the growth of lung alveolar surface therein.